

“The Theocons” in American Public Life

A Panel Discussion

moderated by Alan Wolfe,
Director of the Boisi Center for Religion and American Public Life

February 28, 2007

4:30 pm

Gasson 305, Boston College

Damon Linker

Author, The Theocons: Secular America Under Siege

From 2001 to 2005 Linker was an editor of the influential journal First Things. His 2006 book The Theocons chronicles his growing concern about the religious neoconservative movement led by the founder of First Things Richard John Neuhaus. Linker has taught political philosophy at Brigham Young University and served as a speechwriter for New York Mayor Rudolph Giuliani. He holds a Ph.D. in political science from Michigan State University.

