

12:30-1:45, on Zoom

if Institutional Research & Planning could administer the survey. A subcommittee of the UCT will develop the survey questions.

Future UCT Projects

Committee members agreed that students' well-being during Covid is a critical topic, and dovetails with student formation. The coming weeks and months will be a good time to take the pulse of both undergraduate and graduate students. The UCT will work on designing a project to check in with students at the next meeting.

!